Writing - Purposeful

(8ix)

My writing is well constructed and shows a secure grasp of the chosen genre

- Some will even include themes including the weather and an animal metaphor
- Some will add appropriate stage directions, developing the characters
- Most will add appropriate narrator sections, setting the scene
- All will write a playscript in the correct manner

Richard III Scene 2

Narrator: As the brooding clouds gather, the raindrops fall in reminder of the king. Richard slithers towards the funeral ready to spit his thoughts at his dark patch black shadows like poisonous venom.

Richard: (Richard emerges from the rocky ground)
She'll soon be forgotten. (The funeral appears around the corner)

Richard: Stop this Pretent! Lay down down the Coff
(Lifting his long hand in the way)

Anne: (looking in confusion) What are you afraid of this scoundrel who plays in the death of the King?

Richard: My lady Be nice I did a good thing.
(Moving towards her with a sly cheeky smile)

Anne: Be nice! Killed my beloved husband
You murderer! You killed the King!
(pounding her finger in his face)
